PROJECTS

Clinical Management System (CMS) Development: Angular 10 || Django

Led the development of a Clinical Management System (CMS) website with Angular for the frontend and Django for the backend. Utilized Angular, HTML, CSS, and Angular templates to enhance the user interface. Implemented seamless API integration and efficient data management with Django, while MySQL handled data storage, queries, and CRUD operations to ensure optimized performance and scalability.

Web Application: OTT Platform Django || HTML || CSS

Led the development of an OTT streaming platform with a team of 3 developers, utilizing Django for both frontend and backend, and MySQL for database management. This project improved user engagement, allowing users to watch movies, search by director, film name, and year, and create and switch between profiles.
